Activity description :

In order to actively improve the shelter environment, we have carefully planned the open space to become a "Mao Li Cultural Environmental Creative Park". Combining important local characteristics and well-known scenic spots in Miaoli, such as Shengxing Station, Gongweixu Tunnel, etc., painted on the icy high wall. Relieve the life pressure of host groups. And created the "Miaoli Area Conservation of Animals-Leopard Cat Mural" through the bottle cap to deepen the host's awareness of environmental conservation. In addition, famous buildings such as Longteng Broken Bridge, Hakka Tower and Miaoli High-speed Railway Station have been made into mini-versions of characteristic buildings, adding a sense of local culture in the park.

Our firm specially planted water lotus in the fish pond in the park to take the word "nourishing lotus = nourishing cleanliness", in order to hope that colleagues will be able to produce sludge like a lotus without staining. To enable colleagues in the agency to continue to maintain a good organizational culture of integrity and self-sustainability, and we also plans to organize the "Incorruption from Prison, Together on Line" Containers Integrity and Anti-Corruption Sticker Creation Competition. From the perspective of the life experience of the inmates, create corrective and anti-corruption stickers for the public to download and use.

Longquan Zhang, the director of our firm, said that while striving to improve the shelter environment, we should make good use of creativity to integrate local characteristics and deepen the awareness of environmental conservation. It is the original intention of our institute to plan the "Cultural and Creative Park" to enable the inmates to live in a comfortable and beautiful environment. And actively promote the concept of the rule of law among colleagues, so that inmates can smoothly serve their sentences under the excellent management atmosphere of "administration according to law", so that the family members of the inmates can "rest at ease" and "rest assured". the goal that is pursued.
